

Learning Hub will replace HealthStream this fall

Learning Hub, Prisma Health's new online learning management system, will replace HealthStream this fall. In preparation for the launch, team members are asked to complete any assigned courses in HealthStream no later than Sunday, June 30.

As a leader, review which of your team members have not yet completed their assigned learning and speak with them about the June 30 deadline. This article will also be included in Team Member News on Thursday, June 20.

After June 30, team members will not have the opportunity to go back and complete their assigned learning. Only those out on a leave of absence will have the opportunity to complete mandatory learning after June 30. New required learning will not be assigned to team members until after Learning Hub goes live.

Learning Hub will deliver online learning for all of Prisma Health through one customized system. Team members will be able to search and register for professional development courses, complete assigned learning activities, explore career development paths, view their Prisma Health transcript and more.

Prisma Health–Midlands began using Learning Hub earlier this year. Additional details about the launch of Learning Hub in the Upstate will be communicated soon.
