Correction: New GHS branded materials no longer being produced

The Marketing and Communications department is no longer producing new materials in the GHS brand. However, existing GHS branded materials will continue to be used through January 2020 in order to use up supplies and allow time for items to be converted to the Prisma Health brand. If you notice a GHS branded banner, flyer or similar item and are unsure if it should be removed or updated, contact your marketing representative.

Measles best practice alert created in Epic

As part of the control measures to limit exposure of our patients and team members to possible measles cases, a best practice alert (BPA) has been created in Epic for the exposure screening question asked of all patients. If the patient answers yes to the communicable disease question and exposure to measles is selected, the BPA will fire. The measles BPA will remain live until further notice.

Contact Sue Boeker at Sue.Boeker@PrismaHealth.org or 864-455-4142 with any questions.
